Broadcast

Space for everyone

Broadcast applications often need to simultaneously reach multiple destinations that are located far apart. Satellite communication platforms are ideally suited for broadcast distribution applications. A single satellite can provide complete national coverage, delivering the content to all locations. Gilat Satcom CAPEX free offering is designed to eliminate the initial investment and support business growth.

Gilat Satcom Broadcast Services offer cost-effective satellite based broadcast solutions. Our high-speed, point-to-multi-point communication platforms enable you to deliver your content reliably, even to remote locations.

SERVICES

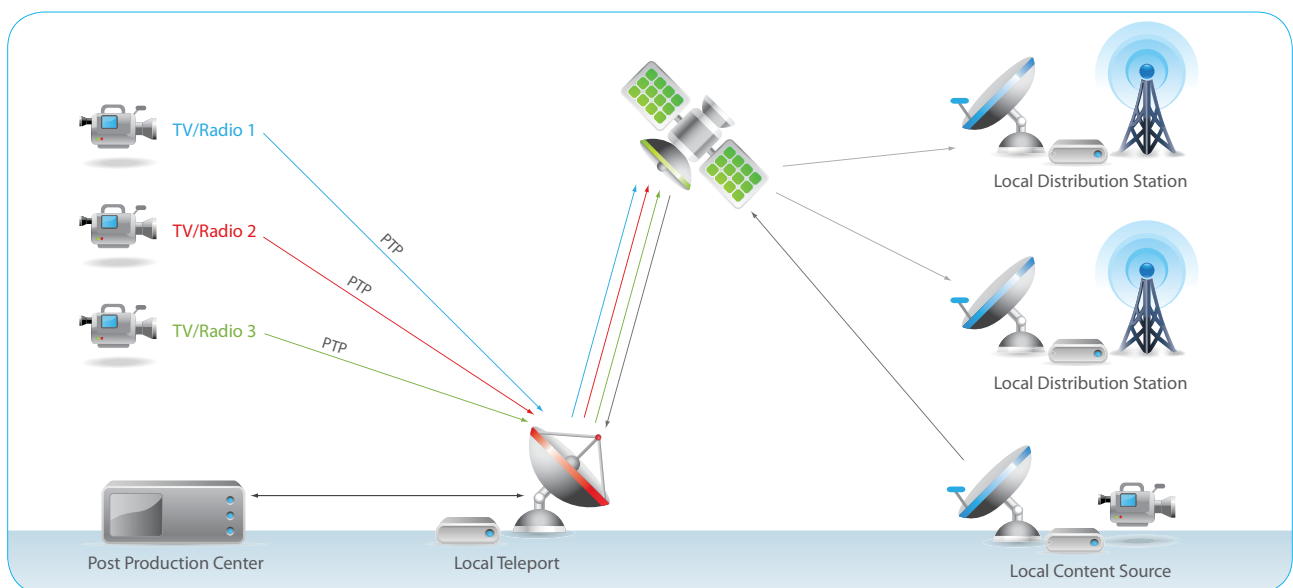

- Signal distribution
- Content contribution
- On demand satellite bandwidth

Gilat Satcom broadcast services enable broadcasters to easily distribute their content locally to multiple network distribution centers. For content providers, Gilat Satcom provides content contribution services. The satellite based platform, is easily connected to any location, bringing local content to international audiences. The high availability solution is monitored 24x7 with playout services available on request.
